VOL. XI. PITTSBURGH, FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 5, 1874. NO. 227.

FIRST EDITION.

XLIII. CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4, 1874.

SENATE.

Mr. JOHNSTON called up the House bill to relieve the legal and political disabilities of Fitzhugh Lee, of Virginia, and the Senate bill to remove the political disabilities of Van R. Morgan, of Virginia, both of which were passed.

Mr. SHERMAN, from the Finance Committee, reported back the House bill providing for the collection of money due the United States from the Pacific Railroad companies, and asked that it be referred to the Judiciary Committee. So ordered.

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, from the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, reported back the joint resolution amending the joint resolution of April 16, 1872, relating to the statue of the late Admiral Farragut, with an amendment striking out the General of the Army as a member of the commission to select an artist, and leaving the selection with the secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Virginia L. Farragut. Placed on the calendar.

The morning hour having expired, the CHAIR called up unfinished business, being the cheap transportation resolution of Mr. Windom, and the Senate resumed its consideration.

Mr. HAMILTON, of Maryland, opposed the resolution.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN said this great nation should not hesitate to spend a few hundred thousand dollars upon these internal improvements. He believed a great mistake would be made by trying any system of canals. Pennsylvania had tried canals across the Allegheny mountains and had been compelled to abandon the work. He believed the true remedy was by railroads, to be built by private enterprise under charter by Congress. Nature had provided the only two water ways which could be used, the great lakes in the North and the Gulf of Mexico in the South, the two connected by the Mississippi river. He favored the construction of a canal at the mouth of the Mississippi river and another across Florida, which would bring New Orleans six hundred miles nearer New York.

Mr. BAYARD opposed the resolution on the ground that Congress had not the power to enter States for the construction of railways and canals. He said this measure contained elements of centralization far in excess of anything heretofore proposed. It was but another blow at that local self-government which is the best nurse and the best instructor that a citizen of the Republic can have.

Mr. GORDON said he did not propose to discuss the general question now, but would submit two amendments which he hoped would remove the objections of the gentlemen from Delaware (Bayard) and from Maryland (Hamilton). The first amendment was, to insert in the preamble the words "or competition encouraged by government aid," and the second was to insert the words "or by the extension of government aid to private corporations," so that it would read "the following are the most feasible and advantageous channels of commerce to be created or improved by the national government, or by the extension of government aid to private corporations, &c." The amendments were rejected.

Mr. HARVEY urged the passage of the resolution.

Mr. BOGY argued in favor of the resolution, and said the question of money was of no consequence when the great benefit to be derived from those improvements were considered. He was a strict constructionist and a States rights man, but was in favor of the proposed survey, though he would have been glad if the amendment of the gentleman from Georgia (Gordon) had been adopted. The question of the power of Congress to make improvements could be discussed after the surveys should be completed. He moved to strike out in the preamble the words which provided that the improvement should be under government control.

After debate, Mr. Bogy's amendment was rejected—yeas 14, nays 35.

Mr. TIPTON moved to strike out the entire preamble. Rejected—yeas 16, nays 25.

Mr. SCOTT said it seemed to be taken for granted that it was the West alone that was suffering for want of cheap transportation, which was a mistake. The people of Western Pennsylvania for years had been clamoring for cheap transportation.

Pending the discussion of the resolution, Mr. EDMUNDS moved that the Senate adjourn.

The CHAIR laid before the Senate the resolution of the House disagreeing to the amendments of the Senate to the bill to amend the charter of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company.

Mr. SHERMAN moved that the Senate insist upon its amendments and grant a conference. Agreed to, and the CHAIR appointed Messrs. Sherman, Scott and Bayard members of the conference on the part of the Senate.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. SAWYER, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill for the further security of navigation on the Mississippi river. Passed. Also, to authorize the building of a bridge across the Mississippi at La Crosse, Wisconsin. Passed.

Mr. HOOPER, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill for the establishment of life-saving stations and houses of refuge on the sea and lake coast, and to promote the efficiency of the life-saving service. Passed.

Mr. STANFORD, from the same committee, reported a bill for deepening the channel at the mouth of the Mississippi by dredging or otherwise. Passed without division. The bill proposes to have the work done by contract, proposals to specify rates and for securing twenty feet depth and not less than two hundred feet width through the channel of one of the passes or outlets of the Mississippi river into the Gulf of Mexico at ordinary flood tide; also the price per month of maintaining such depth for five years; also rates for every additional foot in depth up to and including twenty-seven feet. The Secretary of War is to contract with the lowest responsible bidder, the amount not to exceed $150,000 for twenty feet, or more than $15,000 per month for maintaining that depth, or more than $3,000 per month for each additional foot.

On motion of Mr. DAWES, the Senate amendment to the bill in regard to savings banks, was concurred in.

Mr. MARSHALL, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back the Senate amendments to the Military Academy Appropriation bill. They were concurred in.

Mr. LAMPORTE introduced a bill to increase the tax on fermented liquors to two dollars a barrel. Referred.

The House then resumed consideration of the bill, which was up yesterday, for the improvement of the mouth of the Mississippi river, authorizing the work to be done by James B. Eads.

Mr. SYPHER addressed the House against the bill as reported and in favor of the ship canal project. After further debate, the bill went over until to-morrow.

The House took a recess, the evening session to be for debate only on the condition of the Washington monument.

A SAN FRANCISCO PHILANTHROPIST.

One Million and Three-quarters Given Away.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 4, 1874.

ALEXANDROVNA'S RANK SETTLED.

A London letter says: The Duchess of Edinburgh's position at Court has been settled. She is to be called Her Royal Imperial or Imperial Royal Highness, and is to rank next to the Princess of Wales, except when the Princess Royal—Crown Princess of Prussia—happens to visit England. The rule has hitherto been that the daughters of a sovereign took precedence over the wives of the sons except in the case of the Princess of Wales. The Duchess of Edinburgh, however, is not only royal by marriage, but imperial by birth, and it is on this ground that a higher place has been assigned her.

ALLEGED THIEF ON THE POLICE FORCE.

The Police Commissioners are now investigating the charge contained in an anonymous letter, that an officer of the Eighth precinct was the person who stole four thousand dollars worth of diamonds from a jeweler in Brooklyn in 1866. The officer, the letter states, was at the time known as "Dan, the snatcher." He remains on duty pending the investigation. The jeweler picked out the accused from a batch of sixteen officers as the one looking like the man who robbed him.

ARRIVAL OF STATE OF GEORGIA—NO COLLISION.

LIBEL SUIT AGAINST THE BROOKLYN "ARGUS" SETTLED.

The proceedings against Demas Barnes, proprietor of the Brooklyn Argus, by Judge McCue, were discontinued this morning. Judge McCue sued for fifty thousand dollars damages for alleged libelous statements published in the Argus. This morning Judge McCue's counsel read in open court a complete retraction by Barnes of the charge made. Barnes also promised to pay the costs of the court, including the fees of McCue's counsel, and the case was discontinued.

Inauguration of Governor Weston.

CONCORD, June 4.—Governor Weston was inaugurated to-day. In his message, which he read to the Legislature, the Governor discusses at some length the subject of temperance, intimates as his belief that entire prohibition is against public sentiment in New Hampshire, and favors the passage of a license law of some form. He says, the laws, to be effective, must be in harmony with the public sentiment; but this principle has, in a great degree, been overlooked or disregarded in our legislation on the subject of temperance, and the result has been and is, that for want of proper moral support from the public generally, the laws either cannot or will not be enforced. Whichever of these may be the fact, the practical result is the same. The total receipts from the State tax and other sources for the past year was $780,067, and the expenditures $434,491, the excess being represented by the cash on hand and by the reduction of the State debt.

The Right Center has issued a programme, drawn up by Dukes De Broglie and D'Audiffret Pasquier and M.m. Goulard and Lavergne, favoring the immediate organization of the powers of President MacMahon for the continuance of the title of "President of the Republic" and the maintanance of a political truce until the end of the present seven years' term, or in the event of the occurrence of a vacancy in the Presidency in the meantime. The Left Center are dissatisfied with the programme, as not conceding sufficient to them.

NATIONAL CONGRESS OF BREWERS.

Passage of Temperance Resolutions--Beer Recommended in Place of Alcohol--An Address to the President and People of the United States.

BOSTON, June 4.—At the session of the National Congress of Brewers to-day, the following general resolutions, accompanied by a long preamble, were adopted:

Resolved, That this Congress do now authorize and empower the Executive of the chief Association to lay before the National government and the Legislatures of the various States all the facts and statistics they have gathered in relation to the brewing business, so that the National government and the various State Legislatures may be fully cognizant of the position claimed for their business, and that being thus fully informed, they may be inclined by judicious laws to recognize the same and afford protection against those who are ignorantly and unjustly its enemies; and it is further

Resolved, That measures be adopted to induce the government to remit the duty on barley imported from Canada, and by no means to increase the duty on imported hops; and it is further

Resolved, That this Congress, duly recognizing the necessity of contributing to the expenses of the government, the reduction of the national debt, and the maintenance of the financial honor of the country, do urge upon brewers individually and collectively the wisdom of zealously watching the source of revenue to which they so largely contribute, so that by all possible means it may be increased by an increase of business, and in no way retarded for personal gain; further

Resolved, That a committee be appointed by this Congress, who will consider the expediency of a suitable address by which the public may be reached, in order to lay before them their true position as brewers.

A second series, called temperance resolutions, were also adopted as follows:

Resolved, That we, brewers of the United States, in Congress assembled, do hereby solemnly protest against the course taken by so-called Temperance Societies to hold up the use of malt liquors as tending to immorality, vice, crime or pauperism, and against their efforts to influence the United States or State Legislatures against their manufacture; and

Resolved, That through our local associations, by personal effort and by means of our official organs and the press generally, we will endeavor to influence public opinion in favor of the use of malt liquors as wholesome, nutritious and absolutely necessary as a heathful restorative, without, in any manner or form, tending to the injury of person or property, and therefore not calling for any police regulations; and

Resolved, That local associations and individual brewers in the several States are hereby called upon to make every exertion to prevent legislation against the use of malt liquors, and where laws now exist of this character, to have them repealed; and it is further

Resolved, That each and every brewer is called upon to encourage such candidate for office, whether in local, State or Federal government, as will oppose the enacting of laws prohibiting the sale of all fermented liquors, and also, whenever practicable, use their influence to have all fermented liquors sold under a discriminating license.

A long address to the President and people of the United States followed the resolutions, embracing statistics of the trade in malt liquors, advocating their substitution for alcoholic drinks as a prevention of intemperance, and demanding the modification of the tariff assessed on raw material. The address says:

The continued agitation of total abstinence, to be forced upon the people by prohibitory laws, by unseemly parade and self-debasement of female "crusaders" (whom we consider to be unconscious, but misguided tools in the hands of unscrupulous men aiming at personal aggrandizement), by forcibly, either by statute law or otherwise, compelling the stoppage of the manufacture of, and all trade in beverages, must, we assure our fellow citizens, ultimately deal a death blow to the finances of the country. There is yet another and higher than a mere financial issue, which we propose to submit to the people of the whole country. It is that of personal liberty. This right to personal liberty no man and no community of men has any legal power to interfere with. The right to pursue any honest calling or trade, to change from one to another, to move from place to place, to live where and how one pleases, are but a corollary to this incontestible right. The address concludes as follows: Let the watchword be, "Maintain the credit and honor of the United States; preserve the sovereignty of the individual and, as the Union and national liberty triumphed, so will the financial stability of the national government be upheld, the welfare and prosperity of the people be advanced and personal liberty be ever victorious."

POLITICAL.

State.

Hon. W. H. Playford has been elected chairman of the Fayette county Democratic Committee.

The democrats of Schuylkill county have fixed upon the first Monday of August as the time for holding their county convention.

A. Horne, of Johnstown, announces himself as a Democratic candidate for Assembly in Cambria county. Hope he may be successful—"in a horn."

Hon. Daniel Ramsey, of Indiana county, declines to be a candidate for the State Senate, although solicited by a large number of friends to allow the use of his name.

The Republicans of Lancaster county will meet in convention on Monday next, 8th inst., to deliberate on the advisability of changing the system of making nominations now in vogue.

At the meeting of the Fayette county Republican Central Committee on the 1st inst., Saturday, September 5th, was fixed as the time for holding the primary election, and Monday, 7th September, for the meeting of the county convention.

J. R. McAffee, Esq., has been chosen Sentorial, and J. B. Cunningham, J. C. Snodgrass and D. F. Healey Representative delegates from Westmoreland county to the Republican State Convention, with instructions to present the name of Hon. James A. Logan for nomination for Supreme Judge.

The next Legislature will choose a United Stated Senator to succeed Mr. Scott, whose term of six years will expire on the 4th of March next. Mr. Scott, we judge, is desirous of a re-election. His record for integrity is above suspicion, and he has displayed more than ordinary ability, but still there has been a certain lack of sympathy with Pennsylvania interests, which denies him that popularity which makes his re-election a "foregone conclusion." It might be well, perhaps, for the State to select a man more directly connected with our business interests and consequently more conversant with the wants of the people. Too many of our public men, when they get to Washington, look upon matters affecting the people as too insignificant to command their attention. This has been the case in the postal legislation that has taken place the past year or two, wherein the interests of the large cities have gotten the advantage of similar interests in the country. A right man to guard the interests of his constituency in a legislative body is one that is ever on the alert, and can see just what is the tendency of the manipulations of sharp tricksters, who are always ready to get legislation for their own advantage, at the expense of others, and has vim enough to defeat them.—Lebanon Courier.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4, 1874.

The President's Views.

Representative Farwell, of Illinois, moderate inflationist and member of the Conference Committee, to-day called upon the President and had a long interview, in which he reviewed the action of the two Houses of Congress on the financial measures of the session, and stated what, in his opinion, would be the ultimatum of a compromise on the part of inflationists. Mr. F. before the conclusion of his observations, discovered that the President was more firmly convinced of the strength of his position on the finances, as assumed in his veto message, than even before he wrote it. Subsequently the President, in conversation, alluding to the efforts at a compromise, observed that the proposition of thirty-seven and one-half, or even forty per cent. of retirement of legal tenders would be no compromise. He said that, in the first place, the Senate Committee on Finance reported a bill which he would have accepted as a compromise, but in the Senate it was so materially changed in the interests of inflation, that it was most objectionable. In this shape it went to the House, and in the meantime the latter body passed a bill which was more objectionable than that which had emanated from the Senate, as it had no feature of redemption nor of retirement, though it did provide for free banking. The practical effect, he said, was the repeal of the provisions of the Senate bill, except in a few lines. The bill, he remarked, went to the Senate, and in the Committee of Finance a substitute was reported which was again acceptable as a compromise, but that when this was reported to the Senate, that body struck out the acceptable provisions, and in this shape, he said, it reached the House and there failing to receive satisfactory action, went to the Committee of Conference. The action of that committee has not reached a solution which the President would be willing to accept. It is not expected that the inflationists will recede sufficiently from the position they have taken, and the President expressed himself determined not to give his approval to any financial measure except within the bounds already stated by him in his message. The President observed that, as far as the Executive is concerned, there would be no use in passing a bill such as has been indicated by the majority opinion of the two Houses.

First He Wouldn't, and Then He Would.

This morning, Mr. Sawyer stated positively that he would not resign the Assistant Secretaryship; to-night he admits the reverse. The President stated to your correspondent to-day, that General Bristow would be permitted to select his own assistant. This afternoon Senator Patterson called upon the President in the interest of Sawyer's retention.

The Solicitorship.

Mr. McCammon, of Philadelphia, who represents the Department of Justice before the Court of Claims, is being pressed for the Solicitorship. He is supported by the Philadelphia Representatives, and has also the countenance of General Bristow, under whom he served when the General was Solicitor. The President remarked to-day that he would fill the post himself, but had not decided upon the person.

Compilation of School Statistics.

Mr. Harvey, Commissioner of Education of Ohio, arrived here to-day, and, as chairman of the Committee of the National Teachers' Association, had a consultation with Commissioner Eaton on the subject of the compilation of school statistics, with a view to the promotion of uniformity in the comparison of the respective State and city systems. A report will be made to the Teachers' Association at their meeting at Detroit on August 1st.

The Conference Committee on the Currency have agreed to thirty-seven and a half per cent. retirement of legal tenders, the redemption of legal tenders in coin after July, 1878, and the abolition of reserves on circulation. They meet again to-morrow, and hope to be able to report at once. Senator Morton, the leader of the inflationists in the Senate, favors this.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4, 1874.

GENERAL BRISTOW TAKES THE OATH AND OFFICE.

The oath of office, as Secretary of the Treasury, was to-day administered to General Bristow by Chief Justice Carter, of the Supreme Court of this district. The ceremony took place in the President's room at the Executive Mansion. After the oath had been administered, Secretary Bristow went to the Treasury Department and immediately entered upon his duties.

RICHARDSON'S COMMISSION.

The President to-day signed the commission of Judge Richardson as Associate Judge of the Court of Claims.

NATIONAL CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

National Party Formed---Pittsburgh the Next Place of Meeting.

SYRACUSE, June 4.—The Anti-Secret Society Convention to-day adopted resolutions declaring that in all secret, oath-bound fraternities, including grangers and secret temperance societies, the Convention recognizes a conspiracy against all who do not belong to them, and a standing menace to the religion of Jesus Christ; expressing special opposition to speculative Freemasonry; refusing to vote for Masons for civil office, and agreeing to raise ten thousand dollars for the support of a general agent and lecturer. Members' fees were fixed at twenty-five cents a year, and life memberships at ten dollars. A letter to the President was adopted, to be signed by the officers, protesting against the proposed Masonic dedication of the Chicago public buildings.

The afternoon session of the Anti-Secret Society Convention was turned into a political meeting. Mr. Blanchard submitted a preamble and resolutions for the formation of a national political party opposed to secret societies. After a long debate and some amendments the report was adopted. The name of the party is to be "The American," and the platform of principle is to be framed by a committee of one from each State. A national convention is called to meet at Indianapolis, on the third Wednesday of August, to nominate Presidential candidates. The debate was very warm on the proposition to embody the name of God in the Constitution as a plank in the platform, which was finally adopted. Pittsburgh was selected as the place for holding the next annual convention. Adjourned sine die.

TO WILLIAMSPORT FOR THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

BELLEFONTE, PA., June 4, 1874.

The ninth annual reunion of the Pennsylvania Reserves, held in this charming town to-day, surpassed any former meeting of that association. A detail detachment of cadets from the Agricultural College fired a morning gun at sunrise and a national salute at noon. Business was entirely suspended, and thousands of people of this and adjoining counties thronged the streets during the entire day and evening. From every house in and about the town flags were displayed, and arches of bunting, with appropriate words of welcome were suspended in the streets. Never did a people give greater evidence of regard for the veterans of the Corps.

THE PROCESSION.

A procession nearly a mile long, consisting of the Reserves and other soldiers of the county, cadets, military and fire companies, soldiers of the war of 1812, a section of artillery, and citizens on foot, paraded the principal streets, eleven bands of music playing lively and patriotic strains. General W. H. Blair acted as Chief Marshal.

THE FEED.

In the Court House yard were long rows of tables loaded with provisions, which were served to the soldiers by the fair ladies of Centre county.

BUSINESS MEETING.

In the afternoon the business meeting of the Association was held in the Court House, President Curtin in the chair. The address of welcome, delivered by General James A. Beaver, and a song, composed for the occasion by Mr. Joseph W. Fury, were vociferously applauded. The oration of Colonel R. A. McCoy was a most creditable effort. Colonel McCoy revived many recollections of other days well nigh forgotten. He stated this fact, not generally known, to wit: That while the Reserves fired the first shot of the army of the Potomac, the first flag of truce received from General Lee at Appomattox Court House was through the pickets of the veteran Reserves. Speeches were made by Colonel Mann, of Philadelphia, and Governor Curtin. While they were speaking, Colonel John W. Forney, of the Philadelphia Press entertained the thousands who could not get inside, with an able and eloquent speech. Never was such enthusiasm displayed, especially when the speakers referred in a kindly manner to the people of the South. The utterances of General Beaver, who lost a leg in the service, could not have been of a more fraternal character.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Governor Curtin was re-elected President of the association. The following additional officers were re-elected: Vice Presidents, Colonel William B. Mann, Captain William McClelland, General John P. Taylor; Secretary, Charles Devine; Recording Secretary, Colonel Chill Hazzard; Treasurer, J. H. Killingsworth. The convention then adjourned to meet at Williamsport on the first Thursday of June next. General Martin D. Hardin, of Chicago, was elected orator, with General Jesse Merrill as alternate.

SPEECHES AT GOVERNOR CURTIN'S HOUSE.

Subsequently the procession reformed and, after parading a short time, halted in front of Governor Curtin's elegant mansion, where speeches were delivered by that gentleman, Col. Forney, Hon. L. W. Mackey, Chaplain Beale and Gen. Hartshorne.

IN THE EVENING

the display of fireworks was the grandest ever seen outside of Philadelphia. At this time the different bands are serenading the citizens and distinguished visitors, of whom there are a large number. This demonstration shows what an affection exists for Pennsylvania's great war Governor among the host who know him best. There was no disturbance on the streets (Bellefonte being a local option town), and no such disorderly conduct as generally manifests itself on such occasions. But three of the Reserve soldiers were present from Western Pennsylvania.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

FORT WAYNE, IND., June 4, 1874.

The committee of German indignants have adopted resolutions to the effect that the Rev. It was resolved to call on the members of his congregation to promptly expel him from their pulpit. No action will be taken in the matter among his friends.

The Merchants' and Real Estate Exchange Association occupied their rooms to-day. When a full board is organized business will be transacted daily at the usual business hours.

The committee agreed to report adversely to changing the grade and reducing the width of Henderson street.

They will also report adversely to reducing the width of Fairmount street.

An application from the Assistant Warden of the Penitentiary for permission to tap the Montgomery avenue sewer was received, but no action taken thereon.

The Skinner Hook and Ladder Truck.

The Board of Fire Commissioners have finally declined to accept the Skinner Hook and Ladder Truck, on the ground that in the building of it the contract was not fulfilled—it not having been constructed "in a workman-like manner, and of the best material." The Commission is of the opinion that the principle on which the truck is built is good, but they declined to pay for it until it has had a fair trial and was found all that it was guaranteed. Not coming up to the expectations and the promises of the inventor, the Board very properly refuse it. They are agreed, however, to pay any reasonable expense incurred in its transportation.

Our Board of Fire Commissioners, as is well known, are prompt to give a full and fair trial to all new apparatus for the extinguishment of fires and the saving of life, and when found good, they as promptly provide them.

Mistle Grove Picnic.

DEATH OF N. P. FETTERMAN, ESQ.

Action of the Allegheny County Bar.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the Allegheny county bar met in the District Court room for the purpose of taking action upon the death of N. P. Fetterman, Esq.

Robert S. Woods was elected President, and Judges Stowe, Kirkpatrick, Ewing and Collier, and Messrs. Thomas MacConnell and S. A. Purviance were chosen Vice Presidents, and A. W. Foster and A. H. Miller acted as Secretaries. A committee, consisting of Messrs. Marshall, Moore, Carnahan, Brown and Bailey, was appointed to draught a suitable memorial. After a short absence they reported the following:

With profound sorrow the Bar of Allegheny County has received intelligence of the death of N. P. Fetterman, long and favorably known, not only to his brethren here, but throughout the commonwealth, as an ornament to his profession and an example of all that in private and public life gives worth and dignity to human character. He entered upon the practice of his profession in the morning of his life, and for nearly fifty years pursued it until death struck the weapons of his warfare from his hands; and of him, as of the great lawgiver of Israel, we may truly say that his eye was not dimmed nor his natural force abated when the Great Master called him from the duties and labors of earth.

Throughout his long career, in every relation of life, public or private, he set for us an example worthy of study and imitation. As a husband, brother, father, and friend he not only practiced with rigorous exactness the duties of those relations, but invested them with such a gentleness of temper and grace of manner as added uncommon charm and beauty to his daily life and justly and strongly endeared him to all who were privileged to be related to or connected with him.

His labors as a legislator are a part of our State history, creditable to him and most advantageous to the Commonwealth; of his unselfish public spirit, the purity and high integrity of every act of his public life, there never was and never could be question.

But it was and is as a lawyer and advocate that he secured our admiration and challenged our emulation and imitation. In all professional relations and in the discharge of duties, his courage and zeal were always tempered by courtesy and gentlemanly consideration for his opponents, and no trick or indiscretion ever sullied the spotless honor which he regarded as inseparable from the right practice of his exalted profession. He was a diligent student, and had amassed a large and varied store of learning, which was not a burden, but a well-furnished and ordered armory, from which he drew with promptness and wielded with grace and effect, every weapon needed in the exigencies of legal conflict.

This brief tribute which, with sorrowing hearts we lay upon his grave, would be wanting, did we not add that the greatness and goodness of his character were crowned by that modesty and unobtrusiveness, and by that fair and just accord to others of every lawful claim, which is inseparable from real worth and true greatness.

To his bereaved family we tender our sincere, heartfelt sympathy, and ask the Courts to inscribe upon their records this testimonial of our respect and love for one whose memory we shall never cease to cherish, and whose example we trust we may be enabled to imitate."

The meeting was addressed by Messrs. Foster, Sutton, Moore, Galbraith, Marshall, Carnahan, Patterson, Slagle, Archibald Blakely, Johnston and Luty, all of whom spoke in earnest terms of the professional and personal virtues of the deceased.

The members of the bar will meet in the District Court room at 1 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of attending in a body the funeral services at the First Presbyterian Church.

AN INTERESTING EVENT.

The New Organ of St. Peter's Church, Allegheny. Erected--Grand Inaugural Concert.

Mr. John W. Otto, with an efficient corps, have this week placed in position the second largest organ in this section—the one recently manufactured by the Pomplitz Organ Company, of Baltimore, for St. Peter's Catholic Church, Allegheny. The instrument is next in size to the mammoth Cathedral organ, and in power is scarcely inferior. The case is constructed of plain walnut, handsomely finished, with the front pipes of pure English tint. There are two thousand pipes, ranging in size from half an inch to sixteen feet; two banks of keys, a full set of pedals, thirty-two in number, and thirty-four stops. The organ is thirty feet high, fifteen feet in depth, with twenty feet width. The stops comprise the very latest modern improvements, rendering the instrument specially adapted for the widest possible range of use. Good judges pronounce it a magnificent organ, and the congregation, as well as the pastor, Rev. R. Phelan, deserve credit for their munificence in furnishing their beautiful temple with such an acquisition.

On next Thursday evening the public will have an opportunity of testing the qualities and capacity of the instrument, that occasion being selected for the grand inaugural concert. The event will be signalized by the debut of Miss Jennie Busk, a young lady of Baltimore, who is represented as having a soprano voice of remarkable power, compass and culture. Gifted with great natural musical talent, Miss Busk has spent several years at Florence and Milan, Italy, where, under the best masters, she is stated to have perfected her knowledge of music to a degree uncommon in this era of good vocalists.

Prof. John M. Loretz, organist of St. Peter's church, Brooklyn, will preside at the instrument. A quartette, comprising the first musical talent of the city, will take part in the programme, which will embrace selections from the great masters, and comprise solos, duets, trios and quartettes. The occasion will doubtless draw together a large assemblage of the elite of the two cities.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDIES.

Meeting of the Joint Committee--A Modification of Studies Agreed upon.

Yesterday afternoon the committee of the Central Board of Education on High school and Grades and Text books met for the purpose of further considering the question of a change in the course of studies in the High school.

Mr. John Wilson was called to the chair and Mr. James McEwen made Secretary.

A communication from the High school faculty was read stating that the faculty had adopted the change proposed by their sub-committee already published, with the modification striking out political economy in the "A" year.

On motion of Mr. Case it was decided to accept the change proposed by the faculty, there being but one dissenting vote, that of Mr. McEwen.

Following is the change thus adopted, which will be reported to the Central Board at its next meeting for ratification.

I—In the "D" year. That Latin be elective with German. That physiology be introduced and a part of history be left until the C year.

II—In the "C" year. That Latin be elective with German: that history be completed; that mechanics be introduced, and that rhetoric be left for the "A" year.

III—In the "B" year. That English literature be substituted for those who have not studied Latin, and that physiology be carried to the "D" year.

IV—In the "A" year. That mental and moral science and surveying be made elective with either Latin or commencing German: that rhetoric be introduced from the "C" year.

After a report in accordance with the above had been prepared and signed, the committee adjourned.

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1874.

THE modern touchstone: The Civil Rights Bill.

IT IS quite remarkable—the number of back-paysters who are declining renominations for Congress. "Nobody asked you, sir, she said."

RICHARDSON said he would leave the Treasury Department when he pleased, and not before. We are glad he was pleased to do it. Everybody else is pleased, also.

THE Pottsville Journal puts down WM. A. YEAKLE, of Montgomery county, as one of the Democratic Senators holding over. MR. YEAKLE was elected last year as a Republican, and he had not changed his politics when we last saw him.

FROM one end of the country to the other the Democratic papers, incited by the pending Civil Rights bill, are telling over again the story of the dignity of the white and of the inferiority of the black race. It is a very difficult thing to eradicate the slave-dealing instinct from the breast of the average Democrat.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY SAWYER is said to be a disappointed man. He expected that the President would adhere to the civil service rules, and promote him to the Secretaryship when RICHARDSON resigned. He might, however, be promoted to the office of wood-sawyer without injury to himself or detriment to the country.

WITH reference to the proposed Canadian reciprocity treaty, if there is to be a renewal of reciprocal trade relations with that country, it is the duty of the people to insist that these relations shall be reciprocal in fact as well as in name. At present it looks as though Canada wanted to obtain all the commercial advantages enjoyed by the United States, without having any of our burdens.

CONGRESSMAN FIELD, of Michigan, is inflexibly opposed to the admission, duty free, of live zoological specimens for the Fairmount park gardens, at Philadelphia, on the ground that horses and other quadrupeds would probably be imported under the concession. This brilliant statesman is understood to be a naturalized citizen. Was any duty paid on him, at the period of his landing on our shores?

THE American Silk Association has just published its statistical report for the month of May. The imports of raw silk into New York and San Francisco during that month were of the value of $307,367, against $380,328 in 1873. The total from July 1 is $4,113,770, against $6,845,740 for the same time last year. The imports of manufactures of silk from July 1, amounted to $21,466,991, against $27,666,049 for the corresponding period last year.

"DRINK fair, BETSY, wotever you do." It is not a little remarkable that whilst, in denouncing the Civil Rights bill, the Southern press vehemently insists that it is a mistake to suppose that the negro will not demand admission to every hotel and boarding house in the South should the bill become a law, it also just as strongly insists that the colored people themselves did not ask Congress to pass such a law, and that they do not want it now. This is the very perfection of stultification.

THE House Committee on Foreign Relations intend shortly to report a joint resolution recommending that all cases of international disputes shall be settled by arbitration instead of war. Similar resolutions have within a year been passed by the British and Italian Parliaments, but neither of these governments have abolished their armies or navies on account thereof. There was once a legislator who announced himself in favor of the Maine law, but opposed to its execution. So with the nations, and Peace.

WE AGREE with the anti-administration Providence Press that the country would accept President GRANT for another term before consenting to a revival of the Eatonian Democracy. Fortunately, however, the people are not limited to a choice of these two evils. They intend, themselves, to have a word to say concerning parties and Presidents, and defiant or intriguing politicians who undertake to thwart the expression of their will and the accomplishment of their purpose, may expect to be brought to grief.

A MEETING of the owners of the Oil Creek and Allegheny River consolidated seven per cent. bonds, the May interest on which was defaulted, was held in Philadelphia on Tuesday. It appears that, by the terms of the mortgage under which the bonds were issued, one-fourth of the bondholders can, within three calendar months of the non-payment of the semi-annual interest, empower the trustees to take charge of the road, and a resolution was offered and adopted requesting these officers to proceed at once to institute the legal proceedings necessary to bring the road into the market for the benefit of the holders of the consolidated bonds. These securities amount to $1,100,000. Most of the bonds are held in Philadelphia.

THE Philadelphia papers of Wednesday publish detailed statements of the export trade of that port for May. An increase of $900,529 is shown, as compared with the corresponding month last year, the total exports to foreign ports having been $3,097,281, of which $2,351,987 were in foreign vessels and $745,284 in American bottoms. The total exports from that port to foreign ports, from the first of January to the first of June, were $12,219,111, being an increase of $3,218,101, as compared with the corresponding period last year. The duties received on imports at the same port during the same month amounted to $715,389 04, against $714,063 53 for the corresponding month of 1873; the total increase this year, over last year, thus far, being $298,554 25.

AT A recent meeting of the Grand Trunk Railway Company in London, the President alluded to a great advantage expected from a change in the source of supply of coals at the West. It is perceived that the new international bridge at Buffalo places the bituminous coal mines of Western Pennsylvania in a favorable position for competing for this business, and it is stated that the company have succeeded in obtaining a contract for a supply of thirty thousand tons. Further advantages are offered by the delivery being made by rail all the year round in regular shipments, thus saving the loss of interest on the cost of coal imported during the season of navigation and stacked for use; also, avoiding the deterioration of coal so exposed to the weather for many months, and further gaining a great benefit in the size of the coal, which, by this route, after being placed in the cars, is not disturbed until it reaches its destination. There should be, in this, the beginning of a large and prosperous trade.

WE have already, in these columns, referred to the remarkable lecture on "the Poetry of Genesis," delivered in Chicago last week by a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, in which he took the heterodox ground that the Book of Genesis was simply a grand epic; the story of Eden, and of Man's creation, poems; and that the Bible was intended solely for religious teachings, and not at all as a treatise on geology, astronomy or palæontology. We expressed, at the time, doubts whether the sequel would sustain his rash but confident affirmation that "In the Catholic Church, happily, creed does not impede the development of science," and now we observe that—the penalty following swiftly upon the heels of the offense—the bishop of the diocese has peremptorily deposed him from his charge. He has now discovered that his liberal conception of the relations of the Romish Church to the facts of science was a mistake, and hence "submits himself unreservedly to all ecclesiastical authority." Nevertheless—"E pur si muove!"

JOHN C. NEWMYER, ESQ.

As the contest over the legislative nominations is drawing to a close, we desire to call the particular attention of those who profess to desire good nominations to the fact that JOHN C. NEWMYER, ESQ., is a candidate for nomination to the State Senate. His district comprises the wards of the city from the Sixteenth to the Twenty-Second inclusive, with the Thirty-Seventh ward, the boroughs and townships between the rivers, and all north of the rivers except Allegheny City, Reserve, Bellevue, Kilbuck and Ohio and Sewickley borough.

MR. NEWMYER has served two years faithfully and acceptably in the House, and during the last session he was the acknowledged leader of the House on the Republican side. His legal knowledge and attainments stood him in excellent stead, and he was placed, by general consent, at the head of the Constitutional Reform Committee—the most important committee ever raised in a legislative body in Pennsylvania. His arduous labors in that committee, in helping to frame the legislation required by the new Constitution, were highly appreciated at Harrisburg; and we feel free to say that Allegheny county never had a better or more faithful representative than he.

So long as men of this class are willing to serve in the Legislature, the people should not hesitate about nominating them; and we appeal to those of our readers who live in Mr. NEWMYER'S district, and who are in earnest in demanding the selection of good men for office, to attend the primary meetings to-morrow and vote for Mr. NEWMYER'S delegates. Retain a good and faithful public servant as long as he is willing to serve. The class of high-minded, conscientious, upright and able men, willing to serve in legislative offices, is by no means so large as to permit the defeat of any of them. Mr. NEWMYER is and has been a credit to his county, and he ought to be renominated without opposition.

STREET PAVEMENTS.

The experience of Pittsburgh in the paving of her streets has demonstrated the necessity for some new material for paving that will be firm, durable, clean and not injurious to the animals and vehicles that have to pass over it. Especially, in this city, is it required that it should be capable of bearing immense weights, our streets being constantly subject to the transportation of extremely heavy loads of metal and manufactured articles.

The old cobble-stone pavement has rendered excellent service in its day, and is, even yet, superior to many substitutes for it. But it is rough, dirty and soon worn out; and after enjoying the smoothness of the wooden pavement, the public becomes intolerant of the cobble-stone. The wooden block pavement is, at first, a great relief from the rugged jolting of the cobble-stone; but it is costly, and lasts but a short time. The Wood street pavement is a fair illustration in point. It is but a few years since it was laid down, and it is now practically worn out. The public demands something better than either the cobble or wooden block pavement.

It is true that the wooden pavements laid on some of our newer avenues are holding out better than the Wood street pavement; but that is because they are not subject to the heavy traffic that street has to bear. They are, we know, constantly covered with teams and vehicles; but the traffic upon them is light, compared with that in the business part of the city.

Another objection to the wooden block pavement is the difficulty of repairing it. It has to be repaired from the bottom, up, and not from the top, necessitating the bearing up of the entire pavement at the point where repairs are necessary.

Wood, at any rate, does not seem to us to be a proper material for pavement. It is soft, easily worn, and costly enough to be much better than it is. Stone, in some shape or other, appears to be the proper material for road-beds, and it is to that material we must look for durable roadways. The road made by the Romans in Great Britain so many hundreds of years ago remain good to the present day, solely because they were made of stone laid to a depth of several feet, and capable of bearing any amount of pressure. So, likewise, the McAdamized roads of this country were the best roads ever constructed for rural traffic, and, but for their dust, would still be preferable, even in cities. So far as solidity and durability are concerned, they were superior to all other roads.

The Belgian stone pavement is also a good pavement, but it is liable to most of the objections urged to cobble stones. It is expensive, wears smooth and becomes slippery, but is very durable, and not near so rough as the cobble pavement. It is in use extensively in New York and Philadelphia, and is much liked, except for its slipperiness. Those who have seen horses slip on it on Broadway, New York, know how dangerous it is in that respect.

The next, and about the only other material left, fitted for general use in pavements, is asphalt. In London, Paris, and other cities in Europe, as well as in our own National Capital, this material has been successfully used, furnishing a smooth, substantial pavement, over which all sorts of vehicles roll without noise or dust, and very much to the relief of the animals attached to them. The asphalt pavement has been in use in Paris since 1854, and has given such general satisfaction that all the principal streets of that city, including those the most used, are now paved with it.

The advantages of this pavement is that it combines with it a very large proportion of stone. The principal part of the superstructure consists of broken stone, laid to the depth of twelve or fourteen inches, and the asphalt is laid upon the top, forming a smooth, hard and durable surface. It is, in fact, a McAdamized road covered with asphalt. The road-bed has thus all the solidity and firmness of the McAdamized road, and the asphalt is a complete remedy for any protection against the dust resulting from the pulverisation of stone, where stone is the only material used.

Hiland avenue, in the eastern part of the city, is now being paved with this pavement, and it will well repay any one to go out and look at the modus operandi. The road-bed, after being properly graded, is drained by a French drain on each side, sunk eighteen inches below its level. Broken stone, to the depth of fourteen inches, is then laid down; this is, in turn, covered by a preparation of gravel, furnace-slag and bitumen, put on hot, to the depth of several inches; and on the top of this is laid the asphalt. A huge roller, propelled by steam and weighing fourteen tons, is then run over the surface, forcing the whole into a compact and impregnable mass. The asphalt used in the "Vulcanite" pavement is brought from Trinidad, and the FILBERT patent claims as its chief and distinctive merit the fact that, by the skillful use of sulphur as one of the ingredients of its concrete, the resulting material, which is spread and rolled while hot, becomes, on cooling, nearly as hard as granite; that it is not affected by the temperature of the hottest sun; that it does not crack by the most intense cold; and that the frosts of winter and early spring, which make such sad havoc with the old-fashioned cobble-stone street pavements, and brick sidewalks, has not the least effect upon the "Vulcanite,"—as has been amply tested.

This pavement is hard, durable and clean. No dirt works up between the stones, as in the cobble pavement, and the dirt conveyed on to it is easily removed either with the broom or by application of water. It is easily repaired; and as the repairs do not involve the removal of the entire superstructure, as in the case of block pavements, repairing can be done expeditiously and cheaply. It is also free from noise and dust, and being slightly elastic, is not injurious to the feet of horses.

Although it is, in our mind, the best pavement yet constructed, and as its cost is not greater than that of block pavements, no objection can be made to it on that score. It has met public expectation wherever tried, and we see no reason to doubt that it will prove equally successful here.

Messrs. FILBERT & MCDOWELL have the contract for paving Hiland avenue. They have got several squares already paved, and the street is ready for use as soon as it is laid. They are making a superb job of it, and we advise all parties who are interested in the paving question to pay a visit to the grounds while the work is in progress. A thorough idea of its substantial character cannot be obtained so well as by seeing how it is done.

THE official report of the Vienna Exposition gives the annual production of iron as follows, the figures representing the number of tons: England (1871), 134,664,277; Zollverein (1871), German Bund, 33,296,042; France (1871), 23,620,000; Belgium (1871), 11,406,480; Austrian Hungary (1871), 8,492,122; Russia (1871), 7,208,141; Sweden and Norway (1871), 6,138,347; Italy (1872), 1,474,180; Spain (1866), 1,474,180; Switzerland (1872), 150,000—total 227,793,099. North America (1872), 46,900,000; South America, 1,000,000; Asia (Japan, 1871), 187,000; Asia (other countries approximated), 800,000; Africa, 500,000; Australia, 200,000—full total, 276,500,000. It will be seen by this statement that England produces more than one-half of the production of the world; North America about one-fifth; France about one-twelfth, and Belgium one-twenty-fourth, these four constituting the great iron-producing countries of the globe.—The Engineer.

The Dutch troops who took part in the expedition to Acheen are to receive bronze medals to be struck from the cannon captured there. We should think they were sufficiently bronzed, already—serving in that torrid clime.

OBITUARY.

The Late Nicholas Jaudon.

[From the Philadelphia Ledger.]

The death is announced in the New York papers of Samuel Jaudon, Esq., which occurred on Sunday last, in that city, at the age of eighty. Thirty to forty years ago but few citizens of the United States were better known than Samuel Jaudon, of Philadelphia, the Cashier of the famous United States Bank. That institution, the chief office of which was the building now used for our Custom House, was first chartered in 1796, and rechartered in 1816, and in 1832 Mr. Jaudon became the Cashier, he, with Nicholas Biddle, the President, being the head and front of the bank in its historic conflicts with President Jackson, under which it finally succumbed. The bank charter, limited to twenty years, expired about 1836, and the "removal of the deposits" and the veto of the bill removing the charter were Jackson's most famous acts against the bank. In 1835 a State charter for the bank was procured from the State of Pennsylvania, under the title of the "United States Bank of Pennsylvania," and it was in that way continued several years. Mr. Jaudon was a very intimate friend of Daniel Webster, and his political and financial abilities brought him into great prominence. When the United States bank ultimately wound up its affairs, an assignment was made to four trustees, Mr. Jaudon being the senior, and this trust for many years had their office in Philadelphia, the late John Rumsey being Secretary. Between 1836 and 1842, or thereabouts, Mr. Jaudon lived abroad representing the interests of the bank, but some time after it finally failed he returned to this country, and has since lived in retirement in New York city. His widow survives him, their golden wedding having been celebrated three years ago. His death will recall to the memory of our older readers the stirring events of the famous "Bank War" and President Jackson's administration, when, from 1832 to 1840, the names of Biddle and Jaudon were as familiar in the public ear as are now those of the foremost financiers of the present generation.

Emerson says that an occasional oath is both æsthetic and fructifying. Just now, it must be confessed, there are strong provocations for testing the virtue of this philosophy.

The average Democrat can no more hide his real nature than the Ethiopian he so heartily hates can change his skin. Vide current Democratic comments on the Civil Rights bill.

There is a good text for a temperance sermon in these words of Rochefort: "Drink must, in the end, befog the brain, and a man with work to do in this world wants a clear head."

There is an old saying that if you scratch a Russian you will find a Tartar. In this country some people have a theory that you have only to scratch a lawyer in order to find a financier.

New York papers regret that that city has not responded liberally to the appeal from Louisiana for relief for the sufferers by the recent floods. Still it has done a thousand-fold better than Pittsburgh.

A very wealthy English company have just purchased the property and water-power at the Big Falls of the Potomac river, with a view to the establishment of vast manufacturing works and improvements at that point.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Moncure D. Conway, the "M. D. C." of the Cincinnati Commercial, has been preaching to his London congregation upon cremation. He thinks it is the right way to dispose of the dead.

A Washington correspondent reports that Imogene, the daughter of N. P. Willis, married a spendthrift and now lives a life of poverty. This woman has probably worked like a slave to prevent her sad fate becoming known. To ferret out her secret and give it to the world, is called "enterprise" among Washington correspondents.

Dr. Bellows, the well-known Unitarian preacher, is shortly to be married. He was ordained to the ministry thirty-five years ago, the Rev. Dr. Peabody preaching his ordination sermon. During a recent pleasure trip to Florida Dr. Bellows, now a widower and nearly seventy years old, met a young daughter of Dr. Peabody, and their two hearts soon learned to beat as one. They are to be married on the thirtieth of the present month.

Punctuation is everything. Here is the Brooklyn Argus making Mrs. Clemmer Ames suspend President Grant's affection in a very queer way just because of a misplaced point. It says:

The most likable trait in the President was his love for his daughter. She was at once the delight of his eyes and the darling of his heart, save during the war and her first trip to Europe. She has never been separated from him, even to go to school.

If the last sentence began with "save," it might be more intelligible.

An incident occurred over the grave of a Confederate soldier in New Haven, Decoration day, that reflects credit upon those concerned. John M. Pearl, who was born at Fair Haven, and whose father was superintendent of schools at Nashville, Tennessee, at the breaking out of the war, joined the rebel army, while the father continued loyal. He served through the war, but at its close came North, whither his father had been driven, and said, "Father, if ever I fight again, it will be for the whole country and not for a part of it." When the members of the post reached the cemetery, they found the grave of Pearl covered with the Confederate flag that had once floated over him, and a placard with the words, "Boys, take my flag." The flag was taken, and the grave was loaded with flowers.

It's California this time. His name was Osborn, and in '50 he arrived at the mines, friendless and farthingless. A more fortunate adventurer, learning of his sad plight, went to his sick bed, watched and tended him through weary months, and when he was able to leave his bed of sickness gave him $250 to bear his expenses and to procure tools, saying: "If you ever get able you may pay me back, but do not worry yourself and injure your health in trying to make the money too quickly." A year and a half after Osborn sent this Samaritan $1,250, with a note saying: "I'll pay interest on friendship." Recently, having in the meantime amassed a fortune, he met the Samaritan in San Francisco, was overjoyed to see him, and insisted on his taking a sealed package, which he was not to open until at a safe distance. Said package contained a deed for one-sixth of a rich silver mine, which said Samaritan sold for $80,000.

Food and Digestion.

In dyspepsia the gastric juice which should dissolve the food is only formed in small quantities, and whatever may be the feeling of emptiness and weakness in such cases, the dyspeptic should eat very sparingly. To remedy the evil, the mucous membrane of the stomach, which secretes and emits the gastric fluid, should be stimulated and toned, and the best, in fact the only sure preparation for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Not only does this admirable stomachic promote a sufficient and steady supply of the solvent which converts the food to the purposes of life, but it also regulates the flow of bile, controls the bowels, and has a most invigorating effect upon the nerves. The glow which the very first dose diffuses through the system is an earnest of the more permanent vitalizing effects which are produced by its persistent use. It improves the appetite, cheers the spirits, and renders the body hardy and strong.

A POINTED ADDRESS.

Convinced that the system of long credits and extravagant prices (a feature inseparable from the old credit and loss system) was not sound, safe, or satisfactory to either customer or merchant, we have wholly discarded it, and inaugurated a reform which invites and, we believe, merits public confidence.

The Foundation Principle, READY MONEY

The goods bought and sold for Ready Money.
The very smallest rate of profit charged.
The customer free from payments of extra profits, necessary to credit business to cover losses.
Any article not approved is immediately exchanged, altered, or another made, and if these endeavors fail, or customer prefers, the money returned in full.
Orders from the city and country executed on this basis.

INSPECTION AND TRIAL SOLICITED ON THIS RECONSTRUCTED PLAN.

Patterns sent post free. Requests should give outline of kind and price preferred.
Our Stock is the largest in the city, both in Men's and Boys' Departments, as well as in piece goods for order work.

STOCK AND GOLD PRIVILEGES.

"STOCK PRIVILEGES."—$100 and commission will purchase a first-class contract, giving you the privilege of calling or delivering (i. e., being "long" or "short") 100 shares of any active stock, at any time in thirty days, and $150 to $200 for sixty days. $250 and commission will purchase an A1 contract (same time and terms as stocks) on $50,000 American gold coin. These contracts, known as "puts" and "calls," are now used by many operators in preference to speculating on a margin, as no further risk or outlay is incurred beyond the amount you decide to risk. Privileges can be had from 100 shares upwards on stocks, and $10,000 and upwards on gold. For further particulars, write or send for our "Explanatory Circular." Settlement to be made at time of purchase, or on our delivery of the contracts to your agents or bankers in New York. All "puts" and "calls" negotiated by us are signed by members of the New York Stock Exchange, or bankers of acknowledged responsibility and credit.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THURSDAY EVENING, June 4, 1874.

There were no new developments in the local monetary situation to-day. At a few of the banks there was, perhaps, some slight increase in business, but in the general market there was no change of any consequence. As, for some time past, the movement on all sides was altogether too limited to give satisfaction, and although no particular uneasiness is manifested, there is more or less disposition, in certain quarters, to grumble or complain a little about the continued dullness. Merchants have been gradually liquidating their indebtedness, and are cautious about making any new obligations, preferring to remain inactive where they are unable to settle as they go. Cash payments, having been largely increased in the usual mercantile transactions since last fall, and credits are not as extensively used as formerly. As a result, the supply of second-class or doubtful paper offered daily at the various bank counters for discount is quite large, and strictly legitimate business offerings are remarkably light. Of all classes of men, capitalists are probably the most timid; this is especially true at the present time. Is it not, however, about time that the despondent brethren should look about them and see if the time for a reaction has not set in?

The very few failures in business circles that took place after the panic, demonstrates that our domestic trade was at that time on a firm and staple basis. As an evidence of this fact the New York banks report only one per cent. of their discounted paper as defaulting. The condition of our banks, it is impossible to ascertain, as the fact is not made public, and yet from inquiring of the officers, and a careful examination of the State banks made to the Auditor General, we come to the conclusion that the proposition as given by the New York banks will hold good here. It is true that from these reports we learn that some of the banks with State charters are carrying a very large amount of suspended paper, but the average will not exceed 1 to 1½ per cent.

Our export trade for this year has exceeded that of the same period of 1873 by over twenty-two million dollars. Our imports are ten millions less than for the same period of last year. Wages, the prices of materials, the rate of interest, are all lower than they have been for years, and yet capitalists hesitate to undertake anything that requires the slightest risks.

A few days since a Mrs. Bard sued the United States Life Insurance Company before Judge Van Brunt, of the Supreme Court of this State, on a non-forfeiture policy, providing that, in case she ceased to pay the premium, she might obtain a paid-up policy for the amount she had paid. The defendant resisted her claim on the ground that she had not paid her premium within twelve months, and her attorney demurred to this defense that there was money paid on the policy. The demurrer was based on the ground that a married woman could not bind herself for debts without the net advantage her separate estate, and the court held the demurrer good.

—By courtesy of the comptroller of the currency we are enabled to give below an abstract of the condition of the National banks of this city at the close of business on Friday the 1st day of May 1874.

The gold market is weak, with a tendency to lower prices, in the face of large shipments of coin to Europe.

This movement, it is said, is based on the determination of France to get gold and resume specie payments, and that to this end she is now drawing gold from this country at the rate of two to three millions per week. For several months past the Bank of France has been drawing gold from London, and to fill the vacuum the Bank of England is now drawing gold from New York. The Tribune says there is no mistake about the facts, and that there is no difficulty about explaining them. By the last detailed statement received by mail, the note circulation of the Bank of France was five hundred and eleven million dollars. On the 30th of October, 1873, it was six hundred and two million dollars. The decrease is ninety-one million dollars in twenty-seven weeks. On the other side of the account, the Bank held in specie on the 30th of October, 1873, $145,000,000, and on the 7th of May, 1874, $219,000,000. The increase is $74,000,000. Putting the two movements together, the Bank may be said to be $165,000,000 nearer specie payments than it was six and a half months ago.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, June 4, 1874.

Business was about as usual among the grocers, produce and commission dealers, bacon and provision, and grain men to-day. The same moderate degree of activity among the first named, and dullness among the last, was noted to-day.

There are not many changes in quotations from the report which we gave yesterday. The bacon and provision dealers are doing a fair trade at the quotations which have been ruling for the past two weeks. Prices are well sustained, notwithstanding free receipts, which aggregate 30,000 pieces and 749 tierces in the last two weeks.

Butter is very weak and prices are low, without any quotable change. There is a considerable stock pressed on the market by the warm weather, and 20c ₩ ℔ is a good price for choice yellow,—although some parties quote a little higher. We quote from 12@16c for good to prime.

Carbon oil is a little lower, in sympathy with the other petroleum markets, and quotations are 13@13½c for refined, from store.

The market for cheese continues steady, with very active transactions. Receipts average from 250 to 300 boxes daily, and there does not seem to be any accumulation of stock. Ohio factory readily brings 15c ₩ ℔ and Western Reserve dairy 12@13c.

Eggs are firm with a steady demand. Fresh bring 16c ₩ dozen readily, and some dealers are selling at 17c.

The flour market is fairly active, with no change in prices. The trade is principally of a jobbing character, but a fair volume is transacted. Prices are as follows: St. Louis $9 00@10 00 ₩ bbl; choice winter wheat $7 50@7 75; Minnesota spring wheat $7 00@7 50; Wisconsin $6 75@7 00; red winter $7 25@7 50; Rye flour $6 00; Graham flour $7 25@7 50; Corn meal $3 50; Oat meal $3 00@4 00 ₩ bbl.

Grocers report a moderate business in their trade, without much change from the last two or three days. We quote prices as follows:

Green Coffees—Fancy 27c; choice 26c; prime 25c; good 24c; Java 33c ₩ ℔.

Sugars—The market for refined sugars is strong, tending upward. We quote as follows: Standard extra C, 10c; Standard B, 10⅛c; Standard A, 10½c; Standard hards, 11c; Franklin No. 2, extra, 9¾c; American extra C, 9c.

Tea—Young Hyson 50c@1 10 ₩ ℔; Gunpowder 50c@1 25 ₩ ℔; Imperial 50c@$1 00 ₩ ℔; Japan 55c @$1 00 ₩ ℔; Oolong 25@85c ₩ ℔; fancy $1 00 ₩ ℔; Souchong 25@85c ₩ ℔.

Syrups—Extra white drips 75c: sugar drips 65c; lower grades 45@50c, as to quality.

Rice—Choice Carolina 9@9½c; Patna 8@8¼c; Rangoon 8c.

The transactions in the grain market to-day, outside of a light jobbing trade, amounted to little or nothing. Dealers are of opinion that the volume of business will shortly improve. Prices are much as they were yesterday. Wheat is dull and weak at $1 45 ₩ bushel for amber; $1 35@1 40 for red winter; $1 30 for spring. Oats are steady, notwithstanding the extraordinarily large supply—receipts for the past five weeks being nearly 250,000 bushels—and quotations are 60@61c for white, and 58@59c for mixed. Corn is dull and weak at 78@80c for ear, and 76@77c for shelled. Rye is quoted at $1 05. Barley is nominally $1 50@1 60 for No. 1, with nothing doing. We learned of no sales in car lots.

Potatoes are weak and there is little doing in old stock. There is a considerable supply, but the demand is light. Peachblows, from store, are nominally $1 20@1 30 ₩ bushel; on track, $1 10@1 15. New potatoes are quoted at $4 50@5 50 ₩ bbl.

The following are the receipts of the leading articles of produce, by rail and river, since our last:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Flour, bbls | 1,028 | Apples, bbls | 57 |
| Cheese, bxs | 240 | Corn, sks | 1,870 |
| Wheat, sks | 797 | Oats, sks | 7,416 |
| Butter, pkgs | 25 | Bacon, pcs | 1,655 |
| Bacon, tcs | 228 | Potatoes, bus | 585 |

We omit extended quotations in this issue.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, June 4, 1874.

REMARKS.—By adding the arrivals of stock last night and this morning, the yards were well filled, though much of it would be shipped through to the East after rest, feed and water. The market opened this morning with a better feeling, though the Philadelphians still demand concessions on cattle, and threaten to go away empty handed unless their demands are complied with. They ask holders to drop 25c per cwt., which they say they cannot do and come out whole. It is barely possible that some understanding will be reached by noon, when matters will be more brisk.

ARRIVALS OF STOCK.

The receipts of cattle, hogs and sheep for the week ending Wednesday evening, June 3, were as follows:

| | Cattle. | Hogs. | Sheep. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Thursday | 1,071 | 5,250 | 400 |
| Friday | 2,210 | 10,850 | 200 |
| Saturday | 306 | 175 | 800 |
| Sunday | 1,545 | 15,750 | 500 |
| Monday | 1,258 | 3,937 | 1,160 |
| Tuesday | 350 | 3,337 | 4,800 |
| Wednesday | 765 | 962 | 5,000 |
| Total this week | 8,675 | 42,261 | 12,800 |
| Total last week | 6,667 | 38,725 | 14,000 |

The sales of cattle for the week were only about 1,335 head, all told.

Cattle.

The sales and purchases given below are for the week ending Wednesday, June 3, with the prices and weight of the stock annexed. The reader can draw his own deductions as to the rulings of the market. However, we do not think prices vary much from those of last week, and may be given as follows: Extra smooth steers, $6 80@7 00; prime steers, 6 65@6 75; good steers, $6 25@6 50; fair steers, 5 75@6 00; common stock, $5 00@5 50; bulls, $3 50@5 00.

Hogs.

The market has ruled dull all week, and so continued this morning. There has been a sharp decline in prices as compared with last week, 25c per cwt. Among the causes assigned, it is stated that Eastern dealers have been drawing their supplies from Baltimore, and even from Chicago direct. Be this as it may, trade in the hog line, so far as this market is concerned, is dull and unsatisfactory. Prices may be summed up as follows: Philadelphia hogs, $6 20@6 30; Yorkers, $5 20@5 60.

Sheep.

The dullness that clouded the sheep market during the early part of the week gave way to some extent on Wednesday, under the influence of Eastern advices. As the run of sheep was not unusually heavy, there will be but few left unsold at the close of the week. We quote as follows: Extra 90 to 100 ℔s, $6 12@6 25; 90 to 95 ℔s, $5 75@6 00; 80 to 85 ℔s, $5 00@5 50; 70 to 80 ℔s, $4 00@4 80.

Horses and Mules.

Arrivals light, and after being fed and watered, were shipped East.

Milch Cows.

Prime milkers at $60 00@65 00, while common grades are slow sale at $30 00@35 00 per head.

Calves and Lambs.

Good sized calves, four and five weeks old, are held at 6¼c ₩ ℔, whilst plump fat lambs will readily command $3 00@4 50 ₩ head.

MONONGAHELA—Three feet seven inches and swelling.

Boats Advertised to Depart.

Brownsville and Geneva—Morning boat, 8 A. M.; evening, 4 P. M.
Wheeling ... Mallie Ragon ... Williamson 1 P. M.
Portsmouth ... Granite State ... Kerr, 3 P. M.

THE marks last evening indicated three feet seven inches and rising slowly. There were heavy rains up the Monongahela yesterday. Trade on the landing was moderatively active.

ST. LOUIS collected $4,686 75 wharfage during the month of May.

COMMODORE GRAY'S Ironsides is receiving for St. Louis and way points.

WE are indebted to the officers of the steamer Granite State for a manifest.

CAPT. JAMES REES arrived home yesterday. He will be on hand on Saturday.

COAL in Cincinnati has advanced from 10c to 11c per bushel. Cheap.

THE Cincinnati Times man doesn't like our remarks about towboats. As Toots says, its a matter of no consequence whether he likes or dislikes.

THE packet Carrie Brooks, Captain H. Darlington, leaves Zanesville this morning for this city.

SOMEBODY in Memphis sent the river reporter of the Louisville Courier-Journal a mule. Rather hard on the mule.

THE steamer Andes, Captain Muhleman, leaves Cincinnati this day for Bellair. She returns from there on Tuesday.

THE fine packet Esperanza, Captain J. P. Dunlevy, has deferred her departure for Cincinnati until Saturday, at which time she will positively take her departure.

CAPTAIN JAMES RAWSON has secured a patent for a non-combustible, non-conducting fuel saver—saves from ten to twenty per cent. of fuel. Parties who have used it pronounce it a success.

THE punctual packet Mallie Ragon, Captain Williamson, takes her departure this day, 1 P. M., for Wheeling and intermediate ports. Our clever friend H. C. Caldwell will do the honors in the office.

THE far famed packet Granite State, Captain Kerr, takes her departure this day at 3 P. M., for Portsmouth and intermediate ports. Passengers and shippers can rely on this. Mr. E. F. Maddy will do the honors in the office.

THE St. Louis Democrat says: Captain Tom Poe's boat, the A. J. Baker, brought in two new and excellent barges, which carry each about 450 tons freight on four feet. Dick Sass, Esq., is Poe's agent here, and will probably get the Baker a paying cargo of iron ore.

SENSIBLE.—The Memphis Avalanche says: A new wharfage ordinance is to be presented to the Common Council. It chops all extra corners from the way it now stands, and charges boats from $1 50 to $7 each for six hours' use of the wharf. The bill is a good one, and ought to become a law.

THE following are the consignments in salt received per flatboat last month: From Pomeroy to C. M. Holloway, 8,175 barrels; from Pomeroy to J. M. Rogers & Co., 6,215 barrels; from Kanawha river to Laidley Blackmore, 1,320 barrels; from Mason City to Roots & Co., 2,500 barrels. Total, 18,210 barrels.

METROPOLIS, Illinois, says: Messrs. Schulenberg & Boeckeler's new towboat was successfully launched, and will be sent to St. Louis on Saturday or Monday next. We have two large barges now in process of construction for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company, one of which is now being set up.

THE season for river excursions is now at hand. By reference to our river advertising column it will be seen that Captain J. M. Phillips is on hand with the favorite steamer L. C. McCormick, which has been fitted up expressly for that purpose. For terms and particulars apply to Fairman & Henderson, on the wharf boat.

THE St. Louis Globe says: Captain John Goode received a dispatch from Mr. J. L. Berry, of Helena, informing him that the remains of Captain Dawson, of the ill-fated Crescent City were found on the wreck of the boat Monday. Orders were immediately sent to have them placed in a metallic case and forwarded to Pennsylvania, and it will be a mournful comfort to her to know that her husband will have a Christian burial.

THE boats on the slackwater arrive and depart on time. The travel this week has more than doubled. Cheap fare and punctuality has already proved a success. The Elector left last evening crowded with people. Advertising in the COMMERCIAL has proved a large success. Now is the time to travel—only one dollar to Brownsville, and other points in proportion. But don't forget the hours of departure—8 A. M. and 4 P. M. For all necessary information call on Captain A. S. Carlisle.

THE Memphis Avalanche, of Sunday, thus refers to the energetic Col. Merrill: "Col. Wm. E. Merrill is doing his best to clear and keep clear the channel of the Ohio. The Colonel works scientifically, industriously, skillfully and satisfactorily. It is a pity that the government is not just as well represented elsewhere and in other departments as well as its interests are served along the Ohio river. A lot of coal boats lost during the past season are to be removed as soon as possible."

THE Nashville Union and American says: "The last trip of the Eddyville, Captain W. B. Gracey, master, of the Upper Cumberland, was, in the estimation of his friends and doubtless his own, the biggest trip of his steamboat career. New Bakersville in Cumberland county, Ky., last Friday, he was married to the accomplished Miss Laura M. Scott, daughter of one of the substantial citizens of that county. The newly wedded couple arrived in Nashville yesterday and will leave to-day on board the H. H. Cooke for Clarksville and Eddyville, where the Captain has numerous friends to welcome him with a happy greeting upon his good fortune."

THE Memphis Avalanche says: Windy Marshall, formerly commander of the steamer Philadelphia, which ran between here and St. Louis, has been heard from though dead eight years or more. At a seance held a few evenings since, the spirit of Isaac, Capt. Jas. Lee's favorite body servant, who departed this life a few days since, was called up, and Isaac says that when he got to the Styx river on his great journey to the happy land, he found Captain Windy running the ferry there and doing a fair business. Capt. Lee's pass gave Isaac a free trip over, and sent him on his journey light hearted and happy.

COM. W. F. DAVIDSON, Capt. H. L. Carver and other have an enterprise in hand. It looks to the establishment of extensive coal yards in St. Paul, and purchasing coal in such large quantities direct from the mines as must necessarily reduce the cost to a remarkable degree. The St. Paul Press says that grounds will be selected as soon as practicable, and the work of constructing will be commenced within a few days after the purchase is completed. It is the intention of the gentlemen interested to purchase coal in immense quantities, and they have already perfected satisfactory arrangements in regard to the transportation of coal.

THE Evansville Journal has taken a great deal of pains to contradict the reported break in the Cumberland dam. What has it to say of the following from the Courier of that city: William Lutz and Henry Matheny, pilots of the Cleburne, report four and a half feet at Cumberland, six feet at Shawneetown and Henderson. They met the Paragon at the mouth of the Wabash, Minneola at Shawneetown, and Thomas Means and barges at Raleigh. The Robert Mitchell had been lightened over Cumberland by the Falls Pilot and barges. They say that at that point the channel is very crooked; the break in the dam is a large one and looks dangerous, as in the center there is a large break or pile of rocks—a regular steamboat smasher, and it is with considerable trouble that steamers can get in the best water at the head of the island. They are forced to run very close to the dam, the current strongly driving them toward it.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal of Tuesday says: At a meeting of the stockholders of the Thompson Dean Transportation Company, held yesterday, the following Directors were elected to serve for the ensuing year: R. H. Woolfolk, H. Verhoeff, jun., and C. Boesche. The Directors organized by electing H. Verhoeff, jun., President, and R. H. Woolfolk, Esq., Secretary. Captain James Paul was elected Commander of the steamer Thompson Dean. This magnificent steamer will run as a regular packet between this city and New Orleans as soon as the water in the river will permit and business will justify her leaving. We have no doubt she will prove to be a success, as she is now owned by a company of gentlemen who know no such word as fail.

CINCINNATI.—The following good story is told by the Evening Times: Several years ago, when money was a scarce article, Dr. Tom Carr, of the Telegraph, kept a 'grocery' in Vanceburg, Kentucky. In view of better times, the drinking portion of the community adhered to their 'winks,' and imbibed with the usual regularity. The number of each man's drinks was represented by numerous chips of tanbark, which were redeemed in due time. On the last trip of the Telegraph a couple of Vanceburgers were along and being thirsty, and having not the wherewith to quench their thirst, happily hit on the thought of the Doctor's former device. Stepping up to the bar, each man called for his toddy, and having poured it where many a one had gone before, solemnly laid their respective pieces of tanbark on the counter, and walked away. The Doctor stood aghast for a moment only, when the memory of old times flashed upon his mind, and, calling the men back, he generously stood treat once more.

Off for Ireland.

Henry Grattan Donnelly, Esq., journalist, dramatic author and mariner, well known in this city, sailed this week for Ireland, where he purposes remaining for six months. Bon voyage, Harry.

Officer John Harris, of the Allegheny police force, has obtained a short furlough for the purpose of paying a flying visit to the "ould dart."

Struck with a Beer Glass.

"Cockey" Ward and Ed. Gallagher had an altercation about eight o'clock last evening in Quinn's saloon, on Fourth avenue, and from words came to shying beer glasses at each other. Gallagher's head smashed one to smithereens. Both the combatants were arrested and taken to the lock-up, to await a hearing this morning. Dr. McCoy dressed an ugly contusion on Gallagher's head.

Larceny Cases.

Acting Mayor McMasters yesterday committed to jail, in default of bail, to await trial, John Henry Clay and John Kiskaddin, both charged with larceny. Clay, on Wednesday night, undertook to carry off a case of boots from the transfer depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, corner of Liberty and Twenty-third streets. After taking the case to a convenient place he proceeded to try on a pair, and was detected when only one was put on. James Kirk, the watchman, made information against him.

Kiskaddin is charged by William Jenkinson with the larceny of a butt of tobacco from the store of R. & W. Jenkinson, Liberty street.

Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association.

The twenty-first annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association will be held in Shippensburgh Normal School, Shippensburgh, on the 11th, 12th and 13th days of August, 1874. The programme contains the names of some of the most distinguished educators of the State. The Trustees and Faculty of the Shippensburgh Normal School extend a cordial invitation to the friends of education throughout the State to attend the meeting. Every effort will be made to secure a successful and profitable convention. Announcements concerning programme, facilities for travel, hotel accommodations, &c., will be made in due time.

Funeral of Terrence Hughes.

Yesterday afternoon the funeral of Mr. Terrence Hughes took place from St. Paul's Cathedral to St. Mary's Cemetery, and was attended by St. Paul's Temperance Society, of which "Terry," as he was familiarly termed had been a worthy member, and by a delegation of Council No. 5, S. O. S. J., headed by the Cathedral Cornet Band. Mr. Hughes was of Irish birth, without education, and a blacksmith by trade. He was an industrious mechanic; unusually gifted with an inexhaustible fund of wit, and endowed with native talent beyond measure. His heart and his purse were open to his friends, and he died as he lived generous to a fault. He leaves a widow yet in her honey moon.

Allegheny Water Supply.

The new Lowry engine at the Allegheny Water Works, was subjected to another test yesterday morning, the broken quadrant having been replaced. After the pumps were connected, the machinery worked in the most satisfactory manner. The engine made four and a half revolutions per minute, and was raising water at the rate of about seven millions of gallons in twenty-four hours. The first four strokes of the pumps reduced the water in the pit fully two feet. There is only one supply pipe from the river to the pit, and as soon as a second one can be put in, it is probable the engine will be worked up to ten revolutions per minute, and will have a capacity of fifteen millions of gallons per day.

Death of an Old Minister.

A telegram was received yesterday by Rev. Dr. Pershing, from Lawrence, Kansas, of the death of the venerable Rev. Z. H. Coston, about eighty years of age, at that place. Rev. Mr. Coston was long a resident of this place, and spent in and around this city fully a quarter of a century of his ministry. He was the founder of the Methodist Book Depository of this city. His remains are to be interred in Allegheny cemetery, perhaps on Saturday. Dr. Pershing expects a dispatch to-day, and the time will be announced hereafter. The remains will be taken to the Liberty street M. E. church, where suitable religious exercises will be held, from whence the funeral will proceed to the cemetery.

Testamentary.

Yesterday Register Gray admitted to probate the will of the late James Clark, of Moon township. It directs that one hundred acres of land on the west end of the farm on which he lives, be equally divided between Nancy Clark and Margaret Clark; another hundred acres, on the same farm, between Mary McNight, formerly Mary Clark, and Emily Clark, share and share alike. The son, Louis Clark, is directed to pay to the two daughters, one year after the death of decedent, four hundred dollars each. To Emily is given a part of his household furniture, and to his son James, decedent gives sixty acres of land in Clark county, Iowa. To Louis is given one hundred acres of land of the farm which decedent occupied, together with the house and part of the furniture, with all the live stock, farming implements, grain, etc. Louis Clark, son of decedent, and Samuel Davidson are appointed sole executors.

Attempted Suicide.

Jack Williams was not born to drown. He is an Alleghenian, a carpenter, and resides on Sansom street. Within the memory of the oldest inhabitant Jack was knocked down and dragged one hundred yards by a locomotive, on the North Side. He also very recently escaped from the Allegheny lock-up by crawling through a stovepipe flue. Yesterday afternoon he came to James McCrury's shop, where he worked, on Allegheny avenue. His boss told him to go home and sleep off the effects of the cruise-ade. Jack incontinently turned heel and made for the river. Mr. McC. followed. Jack boldly plunged from a raft into the death-dealing water. He rose and ducked a second time, but was caught by Mr. McC. in time to prevent his evidently contemplated suicide. Jack complimented his preserver in a left-handed manner for some time, but finally started home, where he was calmly snoozing the snooze of the just at last accounts.

The "Woods" Accident.

The Coroner's jury convened at Oil City, to investigate the manner of Thomas Woods' death, reported in yesterday's COMMERCIAL, brought in a verdict that the deceased came to his death by being run over by the cars at the railroad crossing near the brewery. And they found that the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railroad are culpably negligent in not having provided due precautions and safeguards against accidents of the kind at that place.

The remains were brought to this city and interred yesterday. Thomas Wood was formerly in good circumstances, but having lost his wealth he came to the oil regions, hoping to regain it. While there he seems to have been peculiarly unfortunate. As a boiler maker he had no equal, as his work on the Imperial refinery, the best in that part of the country, proves. He had got together a little money and was about to start a boiler manufactory, when the building burned to the ground in the fire last month near the planing mill. Here he lost his tools and all. His friends assisted him, however, and Tuesday he had made all preparation for again starting such a manufactory. Within fifteen minutes after the arrangements had been made for the building and ground for the purpose, the old man was killed.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Simmons and Slocum announce an entire change of programme for to-night, and a sensational burlesque for Saturday night. The performances have improved in merit and risen in favor during the week. Last night the audience gave every indication of the fullest appreciation. Billy Manning's little composition on Rats was well received and executed. But what could he do or say that would not be funny? He can't take off his shoe or scratch his back without infusing into the performance a semi-idiotic manner which stirs up the sense of the ludicrous in the most imperturbable spectator. Joe Jefferson is said to have awarded to Billy the highest praise for genuine artistic humor, and all who known Billy will endorse this valuable encomium. Lew Simmons keeps up his end of the line in the same inimitable way. He is a good singer, and in this respect an exception to the generality of end men. We have already spoken of the quintette as being exceptionally good. Mr. Hamilton sang the charming song "Why Did She Leave Him" so well that we hope no change of programme will omit that gem. In a word, here is a splendid minstrel troupe, here for two nights more. The usual matinee to-morrow will afford children and unattended ladies an opportunity to verify all we have said of these funny people.

Academy of Music.

Mr. John Stetson's novelty company is certainly the most talented and versatile organization of its class that ever visited this city. Last night there was an entire change of programme, and every act on it was presented in such an excellent manner as to win the admiration and applause of each and every auditor. The entertainment takes a wide range, embracing comedy, pantomime, singing, dancing, acrobatic feats, etc., so that all tastes find something particularly pleasing. The merits of the different performers have already been discussed in this department, and it is not now necessary to go over the same ground.

This evening there will be another change of bill. The stay of the company closes with the matinee and evening performances of to-morrow.

Trimble's Varieties Theater.

This theater is enjoying its full share of patronage, and the performances, as usual, are of a superior kind.

Martin's New Variety Theater.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Normal Class Exercises.

The exercises of the eleventh session of the Normal class of Sunday school managers, held last night in the Liberty street Methodist Episcopal church, were profitable and entertaining in the highest degree. These meetings are substantially meritorious, and are conducted on the principle that to teach successfully we must know thoroughly. The Sunday school service is purely voluntary, involving self-denial, preseverance and much patience. The only reward consists in the great good accomplished. After the opening services last evening, followed with prayer by Mr. Samuel W. Hay, the conductor of the meeting William J. Jackson, Esq., announced the theme, "Bible Manners and Customs," touching especially upon the articles and customs of dress, the modes of traveling, and the manner of visiting in vogue with the Orientals. As reference after reference was read, an astonishing similarity was observable in many of the customs of the past and the present. Instructive truths were drawn from each topic, much to the gratification and satisfaction of the members of the class. The systematic form in which the lessons are presented suggests a wonderful familiarity with the Old and New Testaments, which seems to be necessary in these days, when children are so well able to measure their teachers. The demand of the times seems to be that the Sabbath school must elevate its standard if it would maintain its power. This is the object of these Normal meetings, and the success attending them is very encouraging. The closing session of the course will be held on Tuesday evening, 23d inst.

THE NEW WATER WORKS.

Meeting of the Committee---The Pipe Contract---Pay Rolls---Herron's Hill Reservoir.

A petition for a fire plug at the corner of Fifteenth and Jane streets, South Side, was referred to the Superintendent in conjunction with the City Solicitor, to ascertain whether the committee has authority to put up five plugs in the South Side.

THE PIPE CONTRACT.

A communication from Mr. William Smith was read. The communication stated that the subscriber had recently received a notice from Engineer Kennedy to the effect that the time for the delivery of pipes under his contract had expired on June 1st, and that he must cease work for the city as the committee would pay for no more pipes at his prices, when they could be obtained for less. It also stated that he had received a communication from the Engineer some time ago, and shortly after the fire occurred at his works, telling him that, in consequence of the misfortune at his works, the Water Commission had agreed to give him further time to complete his work. The communication contained a copy from the Civil Engineer, and concluded with the statement that the subscriber preferred to have the matter settled peaceably if possible, but that he would institute legal proceedings against the city if the Water Commission decide to receive no more pipe from him.

Mr. Ahl thought there should be consideration paid to the communication, and claimed that Mr. Smith should be allowed to proceed with the contract.

Mr. Chalmers took the floor against this and said the time having expired the contract should be annulled. Already the city had obtained contracts at nearly half the price and the people would not expect that the committee would continue at the high price when less rates could be obtained.

Mr. Hunter thought that it was a question of law and further time should be allowed to consider it.

Mr. Watson held that if this was annulled, all contracts should be annulled when the time expired. He thought that the good faith of the city required them to proceed.

Finally, action was postponed till next meeting.

HERRON'S HILL RESERVOIR.

The Sub-Committee on Herron's Hill reservoir reported that they had made an examination of the ground, and recommended that Messrs. Wray & McElhenny, contractors, be given twenty-five cents a yard for placing earth on the slopes of the hill. The report was received and filed, and on motion it was amended to fix the price at thirty-three and one-third cents per yard, and adopted.

Adjourned to meet Thursday night.

COUNSEL APPOINTED FOR ORTWEIN.

Ernest Ortwein, the murderer of the Hamnet family, was brought into the Quarter Sessions Court yesterday morning, for the purpose of having counsel appointed for him. When he was brought from the jail, his Honor Judge Stowe inquired of him, through an interpreter, if he had any counsel, and he answered that he had not. When asked if he would like to have counsel appointed he replied that he would. The Judge then spoke of the importance of allowing the prisoner counsel, and good counsel, and of the peculiarities of the case, and said that it was a thankless job, one which was not very desirable, considering the intense feeling which was manifest. He had consulted with the two gentlemen whom he intended to appoint, and he thought they would accept the duties. The court then appointed Marshall Swartzwelder, Esq., and W. D. Moore, Esq., as the counsel. Nothing was said in regard to a German counsellor, but as Ortwein has expressed a desire to have one of his own countrymen among his attorneys, it is probable that Messrs. Swartzwelder and Moore will secure the assistance of a German lawyer.

A NEW method of joining gas pipes has been perfected: Instead of the usual projecting end, the pipes have creases or channels around them. When placed in contact, end to end, a strip of soft lead is bound about them, and pressed tightly against the pipes by a wrought iron ring. Also, that this case is bound to be carried to the Courts.

THE statement in yesterday's COMMERCIAL, to the effect that Mr. Frank Ardary had just invested some thousands of dollars in a fast horse in Kentucky, was slightly inaccurate. The truth is Mr. A. traded a horse which he had been wintering in the Blue Grass region of Kentucky, for another animal, the difference in value of the two being small. Mr. Ardary is not buying fast stock, just now; on the contrary he is anxious to sell what he has on hand. Any one desiring to purchase the Kentucky horse mentioned above can get him at a reasonable figure.

The People's Monthly.

The number of this popular illustrated home periodical, for the current month, is out, and abounds with interesting reading matter, and fine wood cuts. ATLANTA, ILL., Jule 14, 1873.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I have not words to express my gratitude to you for your advice and assistance in my case. There is not one who has used your medicines since they have been brought here but that can say with me they have been greatly benefitted. Since I have been so helped by its use six or seven around me left off all doctors and other medicines, and now use it in their families, after being cured of the same disease as mine. You do not know what a wonder it created in our city, by its restoring my sister I wrote you about, for she had been under the care of three of our best doctors, but could not sit up but for a few minutes at one time. I begged of her to try your medicines, and before she had used half of the bottles she could go all around the yard, and has now just come home from a visit, five miles away.

MRS. THOS. McFARLAND.
